

Charcoal Class

Charcoal class members have been enjoying themselves this month with cooking delicious items such as calzone in food tech, social interactions through games such as monopoly and table tennis, and looking after their school environment by litter picking - they were impressed with how little there was to pick up. The New York theme has continued in Discovery and in Science they have been predicting what happens to their pulse during exercise or when they are resting.

