

Bronze Class Monthly Update: February 2024

On Tuesday mornings Bronze class has been going to Alton College and working towards an AQA Unit Award on 'Making a short documentary film.' Students worked together as a team to plan their filming by making a story board. They then went around Alton college filming, before editing their work together and adding music. Finally, they had to present their work to their classmates.

In English we have been working on another AQA Unit Award part of which was talking to 'unfamiliar people' around the school.
